Ext. Members Contests On

"At the close of the first week of the Oxford County Extension Association Membership Contest the women are ahead by a close margin," announces Ada Wadsworth of Hiram, Women's Captain. The score is women 97 members for a score of 64; men 82 members for a score of 46. The Denmark women have exceeded last year's membership already. They have 32 members compared to 28 last year. This gives them a score of 35 points.

Gerald Bessey of Buckfield, County Captain for the men announces that Harold Shaw's men in South Paris are going strong. They have scored 28 points and Harold says, "We have hardly started working." Gerald Bessey has this statement to add, "When the chips are down I've got my money on the men."

The contest is scored as follows: 50 points for a men's community for equalling last year's membership.

21 points for a women's community for equalling last year's membership.

5 points for each new family membership.

2 points for renewing a family membership.

1 point for each member after last year's total has been reached.

The contest will close Monday, Oct. 28, which is Annual Meeting Day for the Association.

A solicitors' supper will be held after Annual meeting at which the losing side will furnish the entertainment.

RICCI - CHAPIN

The wedding of Miss Winona Chapin, R. N., of Melrose, Mass., daughter of Milan A. Chapin of Bethel, and Major Alfred Ricci, of Providence, R. I., took place Oct. 7, at Melrose. The couple will make their home in Portland. Major Ricci will report in California, Oct. 23, going from there to Korea.

GOULD-BERLIN GRID TUSSELE TO FEATURE GOULD'S PARENTS DAY FESTIVITIES

Saturday at 2:00 p. m. Gould Academy and Berlin, N. H., will meet in the feature attraction of the Academy's annual Parents' Day festival. Although the Blue and Gold holds a decided edge over the Berlin club in past seasons, the visitors are this time favored to win. The local boys have had a tough time trying to score and in their last two games have been held scoreless. Last Saturday while Gould was being beaten 5-0 by Lyndon Institute, Berlin ground out an impressive 19-0 victory over Kennerly High of Conway. The Bethel team will be in there trying hard to start a string of victories but the New Hampshire club will be giving its best to give them their third set back in a row.

The following men are expected to see plenty of service this week: Ends—P. Bartlett, Hastings, Ferguson and Olson. Tackles—Bacon, Wilson, Bennett and Gilman. Guards—Smith, Sweeney and Patterson. Center—Captain, R. Adams. In the backfield there will be Agnew, H. Adams, Burnham, Hiden, Symons, Linnell, Johnson, and Murphy.

DOUBLE WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. Archer Knight

Mr. and Mrs. Angus Cameron

An event of interest Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, was the double wedding ceremony performed at the Hunt's Corner church by Rev. Wilbur I. Bull and Rev. Hilda Ives. Miss Beverly Hall became the wife of Archer Knight of Kennebunk, and her sister, Miss Ramona Hall was united in marriage with Angus Cameron of Jefferson, N. H. The brides are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde P. Hall of Albany.

AIR MAIL AND POST CARD RATES STILL UNCHANGED

There seems to be some confusion relative to postage on post cards, air mail, etc. Since pending legislation involving increased postage rates was not enacted in September, present rates will continue through the Christmas season. However, the parcel post rate and postage on individual addressed catalogs and similar printed advertising matter in bound form, were increased effective Oct. 1st, 1951.

COUNTY 4-H CLUB EXHIBITIONS CONTINUE

County 4-H Club Exhibitions will be held this Saturday, Oct. 20 in Oxford county at Association Hall, South Paris, in Waldo county at Crosby High School, Belfast, and in Androscoggin-Sagadahoc counties. They will be held next Friday, Oct. 26, in Kennebec county and that evening at Bangor High School in Penobscot county. On Saturday, Oct. 27, exhibitions are slated in Northern and Central Aroostook county at Madawaska Training School, Fort Kent, and Carleton High School, respectively. These are the big events of the 4-H year.

MISS ANN GRIGGS GUEST OF HONOR

Miss Ann Griggs was tendered a farewell tea Sunday in Garland Chapel by the Guild with 50 persons in attendance. Miss Griggs, who has taught music at Gould Academy for the past 11 years, will make her home in Morristown, N. J.

Mrs. Gayle Foster, Mrs. John Howe, Mrs. Elwood Ireland, and Mrs. Harry Kuzysk poured. Music was in charge of Mrs. Theodore Emery. Arrangements and food were in charge of Mrs. Dana Douglass, Mrs. George Taylor, Mrs. Harlan Hutchins, Mrs. Ordell Anderson, Mrs. Robert Scott and Mrs. Addison Saunders. The guest book, in charge of Mrs. George Taylor, was presented to the guest of honor.

CARD PARTY AT NEW GRAMMAR SCHOOL

The Five Town Teachers' Club wishes to bring attention again to the card party to be held at the new grammar school on Friday evening, October 19, at 7:30 o'clock. This is the Club's Fall project. All receipts are to be used in the scholarship fund established by the organization last year.

It is hoped that many card enthusiasts, whether bridge, whist, canasta or 63 will be in attendance to start successfully this commendable project.

GUILD FAMILY NIGHT TO FEATURE "A WONDERFUL LIFE"

Just what constitutes "a wonderful life" is presented dramatically and entertainingly in the new feature length film "A Wonderful Life" produced in Hollywood, which will be shown Wednesday Oct. 24 at Garland Chapel. All interested people are invited to bring their families at 8:30 p. m. for dessert. The movie will be shown at 7:30.

Howard B. Swisher, motion picture editor of the United Press describes "A Wonderful Life" as "a simple, wholesome story about a little man who leaves riches upon his death—not of money but of good deeds." This man was Henry Wood, sympathetically portrayed in the film by Academy Award winner, James Dunn, who played in "A Tree Grows in Brooklyn" and was for a time the lead in "Harvey" on Broadway. "A Wonderful Life", artistically and technically excellent, is the newest of the 1951 films put out by the Missions Council of Congregational Christian churches and produced by the Protestant Film Commission in Hollywood with a fine cast of well known artists. Three denominations, the Congregational, Evangelical and Reformed and Presbyterian, USA, financed the film.

Among the actors are Isabel Withers, Jack Larson, Allene Roberts, and Arthur Shields, brother of Barry Fitzgerald who made movie history in his portrayal of the elderly priest in "Going My Way" and who, like his brother, is an Irish Presbyterian.

Perhaps the heart of "A Wonderful Life" is expressed in the prayer which the pastor offers with the family of Henry Wood after his death. In it he gives thanks to God for "Christian homes, which pass on from generation to generation, from a man to his children and to his children's children—faith, hope and love."

WIGHT - EDWARDS

Paul Wing Wight, AD2, USN, of North Newry and Ethelene Pearl Edwards of Rumford were united in marriage at the home of the groom's parents in North Newry, Sunday, October 4, in the presence of a large group of immediate relatives. The double ring service was performed by Rev. Eunice B. Shaw, State Missionary of the Congregational Church and interim pastor of the local church.

The bride, wearing a navy blue suit and a corsage of roses, was attended by her younger sister, Ruth Mae Brownhall. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Brownhall of 9 Front Street, Rumford. She was graduated from the Rumford high school and at present is employed by the Oxford Paper Company.

The groom is on a fifteen day leave from his ship, the Orlin, which has recently returned to New York, after a four months' cruise in the Mediterranean. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Wight of North Newry. Mr. Wight was graduated from Gould Academy in 1949 and enlisted in the Navy that fall. His brother, Owen, served as boat man.

The rooms were attractively decorated with autumn leaves and the beautiful fall day added much to the occasion. The wedding cake, made by the bride's brother, was cut in traditional fashion.

Following the reception, the couple left in a car for a wedding trip.

MISS BLANCHE EMERY

Funeral services for Miss Blanche Emery were held at the Albany Church, Hunt's Corner, Tuesday afternoon, Oct. 16. Miss Emery was born in Albany Nov. 8, 1887, daughter of the late Francis and Winifred Farmer Emery. After the death of her mother in 1940, Miss Emery continued to live in the Albany home, and there made a home for one of her nephews, Warren Lapham, who had stayed there since the death of his grandfather, 26 years ago.

Miss Emery was always ready to do all that she could for others, as far as her strength allowed, but ill health had prevented her from doing many of the things she would like to have done during recent years. In earlier years, she greatly enjoyed the work out of doors in her garden and fields, where she was often found. A few years ago she united with the Albany Church and has since been a devoted member. She was also a member of the Ladies Benevolence Society.

She is survived by one sister, Mrs. Leslie Kimball, of Albany, and sixteen nieces and nephews. Her sister, Mrs. Florence Lapham, passed away several years ago, and since then she has been as a mother to her sister's children. Indeed her spirit of friendliness and love reached out to all who needed her help. Her last days were spent in caring for a grand-niece and nephew.

The flowers in the church, Tuesday afternoon, bore their testimony to the love and esteem in which she was held by all.

Besides the relatives and friends in Albany and vicinity, the following from out of town attended the services: Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lapham of Houlton; Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Mahon, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kelly of Sherman; Mrs. Mary Wagner of Malden, Mass.; Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Lebozo of Oxford; Andrew Ashland of Portland; Mrs. Eva Barker of Norway; Mrs. Merle Stone of South Paris; Mrs. Mildred Bennett of North Fryeburg; Mrs. Florence Graves of Randolph, N. H.; Mrs. Helen Jewell, Mrs. Eleanor Bean of Lynchville; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kimball of Bryant Pond; Mrs. Carrie Logan, Clayton Penney of Lynchville; Cpl. Lawrence Rich, who recently returned from Korea.

FRED F. LEIGHTON

Fred F. Leighton died Monday night in Gray at the home of his sister, Mrs. Josephine Cole, where he had made his home the past several years going there from Gilsum.

He was born in Gilsum, May 1, 1890, son of George E. and Alice Robbins Leighton. He was an invalid all his life.

Survivors besides the sister are a brother, Irving Leighton, Gilsum, two nieces and two nephews.

Funeral services were held at the Greenleaf funeral home Wednesday afternoon at 1 o'clock. Rev. Charles Pendleton officiated. Burial was in the Wheeler Cemetery, Shelburne, N. H.

JOHN McPHERSON

John McPherson was found dead by hanging in a building at the town farm Wednesday afternoon. Medical examiner, Dr. John A. Green of Rumford pronounced the death suicide.

Mr. McPherson was a native of New Scotland and leaves a sister, Mrs. Ella Gilman, who lives in Rumford. He had been cared for at the farm for about two years.

Cross Country

The Gould Academy Harriers journeyed to Portland on Wednesday where they met a strong Portland High School aggregation and were defeated, 21-34. The order of finish was as follows:

1 Guilford (P) time, 11:50; 2 Harlow Merrill (G); 3 Libby (P); 4 Howard (P); 5 King (P); 6 Phil Lovejoy (G); 7 Dale Bosworth (G); 8 Arata (P); 9 Leo Rolfe (G); 10 Raymond Nowlin (G); 11 John Willard (G); 12 Killinger (P); 13 Arnold Jordan (G); 14 Eddie Hastings (G); 15 Lee Merrill (G); 16 Bearor (P); 17 David Fleet (G).

Football

Gould Academy was defeated by a score of 6-0 by Lyndon Institute in a game played at Lyndon, Vt., last Saturday. In three games played up to this year these teams proved to be evenly matched. The first two games ended in ties and last Saturday's game turned out to be a sort of play-off with the Vermont institution ending on top.

Athletic Council

A meeting of the Gould Athletic Council was held at the Academy this week at which time the basketball schedule as submitted by the Faculty Manager of Athletics was confirmed. Matters pertaining to football schedules for future years were discussed and athletic policies adopted. Paul Kelley, head coach of winter sports, was elected by the permanent members of the council as member at large from the coaching staff for the school year 1951-1952.

Camera Club

The officers of the Camera Club for the year 1951-1952 are as follows: President, Peter Hussey; North Berwick; Vice President, Read Chayne, Mansfield, Mass.; Treasurer, Kathryn Knowles, North Harbor; Secretary, Jane Edwards, Saxtons River, Vt.; Assistant Secretary, Lela Polney, Winterport.

CHARLES R. CROSS

Charles Ross, son of Bethel, died last Thursday at the St. Louis Hospital in Berlin, N. H., a few hours after being admitted. He had been ill several days.

A native of this town, Mr. Cross was born June 13, 1870, the son of Roscoe and Augusta Coulson Cross, and was a blacksmith by trade. His wife was the late Pearl Forester Cross.

Surviving are two sons, Albert, Concord, N. H., and Dennis, Shub Oak, N. Y., a daughter, Mrs. Bertha Foster, Tampa, Fla., a sister, Mrs. Lulu Eames, Bethel, four grandchildren and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services were held at the Greenleaf funeral home Saturday at 2:30 p. m. Rev. David Hickland officiated. Burial was at Colebrook, N. H.

The Week in Oxford County

Jack Quinn of South Paris, alert press photographer and veteran news correspondent was vacationing in Messina, N. Y., last week. He crossed into Canada to snap Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh who stopped fifteen minutes at Cornwall, Ontario.

Rev. Fr. John Minnehan, curate of St. Athanasius Church, Rumford, was recently elected vice-president of the Maine Association of the National Amateur Athletic Association.

Col. Herbert Dunham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Dunham of Locke, Me., has been wounded for the second time in the Korean fighting. According to a letter received by Mr. and Mrs. Dunham from him, he is recovering from wounds received Oct. 4.

Joseph Carro, South Paris, a volunteer fireman, suffered a compound leg fracture in a fall from a fire truck Monday afternoon. He is at the CMG Hospital, Lewiston. It's a long way from Cleveland, Ohio, to Oxford, but a Crusade for Freedom balloon made it, and was picked up by Alfred Brett Sunday morning on Pigeon Hill. An attached card asked the finder to notify Crusade Headquarters, in Akron, Ohio.

Mrs. Joseph LaPointe, West Paris, received a letter from her son, Pierre LaPointe, saying he is a prisoner of war in North Korea, since April and in good health. He had been reported missing.

Two Rumford boys, Emil Fournier, Jr., 12, of Woodlawnville, and Emile Fournier, 13, Lincoln Ave., were accidentally shot by the same bullet. They tried breaking up a squirrel's nest with the butt of a .22 rifle and it discharged. The bullet went through Fournier's right arm and lodged in Fournier's leg. Their condition was good Sunday night at Rumford Community Hospital. Scott's bridge, an all summer project on route 120 in Rumford, was officially opened to traffic on Monday.

By a vote of 669 to 223 on Tuesday, Oct. 9, Rumford accepted the revised Town of Rumford charter and the elimination of the Rumford Falls Village Corporation effective February 4, 1952.

Stanley Koltche, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Koltche, Rumford, has been named representative to the Hague, Netherlands, under the U. N. Economic Cooperative Administration. He was a student at Sorbonne University, Paris, France.

INDEPENDENCE AT STAKE IN INDIANA

Let us appear that in an imagination called Indiana most of the people beyond age 40 had been too young to lay up a "nest egg" for old age, or they had relatives who wanted them to stay in the state and work for them. Yet, a few were truly, their circumstances requiring change.

The population of Indiana could be placed on an all-around basis for the purpose of giving a general idea of the state's condition. Indiana is a large state, and its population is large. It is a state of many contrasts, and its people are many. It is a state of many contrasts, and its people are many.

Enter the state. The state is a large state, and its population is large. It is a state of many contrasts, and its people are many. It is a state of many contrasts, and its people are many.

"HOW TO WIN FRIENDS and INFLUENCE PEOPLE"

'Nothing Too Darn Important'

THIS STORY, told me by Earle B. Johnson, Jacksonville, Fla., I give you exactly as he gave it to me.

"One night I received a long distance telephone call. It was our family doctor in DeLand, Fla. My father was not expected to live—a serious heart attack. I was shocked—stunned. It was unbelievable—my father, who had never been sick! A few hours later I was there. The doctor told me Dad had had an acute attack of coronary thrombosis, and that slowly through the years he had developed hardening of the arteries.

"Dad was always a good fighter in anything he did—and contrary to prediction he was sitting up several months later. When he was able to make the trip, I arranged for an examination by an eminent heart specialist who started in with Dad's case history from the time he was a boy to the birth of his three sons, his early business, then the Florida boom in 1925, and its disastrous crash in 1926.

"That is when it started—worry! Dad had set a pretty high standard of living for his family, and after the crash he did his best to keep up that level for us. Then the bank failures of 1929—depression of early 30's. How much we took for granted and how little we realized what this broken man had gone through with worrying about finances, family and business—never burdening us with any of it. It all came back to me as I sat there watching my Dad going to pieces. This two-fisted business man emotionally collapsing. It was unbelievable.

"When the doctor finally dragged the whole story out, he explained that every condition Dad had was THE NATURAL RESULT OF WORRY OVER THE YEARS, that the daily worry he had gone through set up an organic condition that slowly hardened the arteries and finally resulted in the heart condition.

"Dad's future was outlined with brutal frankness. It was almost too late, but he had one chance to live. 'Do not think, talk about, nor transact any business of any nature. Instead, go fishing, go walking, grow flowers.' After a year of this, he was re-examined, and his improvement was remarkable. With the same program he could hope to live nearly his normal life span.

"A few months ago Dad said, 'Son, I want to give you a little sound advice. I hope you will always remember it. When you get my age and look back, you will find there are many things you used to think important that really do not amount to much. Everything you do is important, of course, but none of it too darn important.'"

IT BECAME an open question whether the sugar act will be amended and what date, and whether the time has been taken up to about November 1. Mention has been made in these columns before of the sugar subsidy act and that it applies to only a few, possibly three, real big cane sugar growers in Florida and Louisiana. As a matter of fact, however, the subsidy applies to beet sugar farmers also, in 15 states, although these too, are relatively few as compared to all farmers.

Economic Highlights

Happenings That Affect the Future of Every Individual — National and International Problems Inseparable From Local Welfare.

Has Korea become the "forgotten" war? Will it go on indefinitely, with its heavy casualties, and with little or no chance for us to win a decisive victory?

Those number questions are raised in an article in a late issue of U S News & World Report. The magazine said: "Korea, half-forgotten, is receding in the minds of many to the status of an experiment in war, one being fought back and forth for the purpose of testing new weapons, materials and methods on a continuing basis. No effort is being made or planned to win a clear military victory. Now to ground forces, which could help drive the enemy out of Korea, are being sent to Europe. U S bombers, which could seriously weaken the enemy by bombing his bases outside of Korea, are still being kept below the Yalu U S, faced with a third-rate enemy, has fought for 15 months with no prospect of a military victory in sight."

The Korean casualties have been enormous. During those first 15 months we suffered more than 14,000 killed about 60,000 wounded, and nearly 11,000 missing. Our allies took heavy losses too. What has happened to the civilian population of South Korea is beyond description. The fighting, the cold, hunger and disease have taken an incredible toll. The cities and villages have been razed and burned.

On the credit side, as credits go in war Korea has enabled us to build up a magnificent army and to school it in new and often revolutionary tactics. Everyone who has seen this army has had only the highest praise for it. From General Ridgway's high command down to the last private in a frozen foxhole morale is magnificent, and the troops' fighting qualities, both as individuals and in units, are superb. And Korea has led to the development of vastly improved traditional weapons. It is all very different.

Twenty courses in agriculture open late in October at the University of Maine and close early in May. They are intended primarily for young men who intend to make farming their lifetime occupation.

Collect and sell all metal scrap on your farm. Every bit of scrap is Maine farms is needed in the mobilization program.

will be good for you though, be you a great world figure, prime minister, king, governor, rich man, beggar man or thief. All need slowing down.

Thanatopsis and its view of death is not a depressing story but it is a thought-provoker and no parallel. And looking high and low around the corner or under every rock, you will find nothing any place that we are more in need of in the land of fun, palaver, and bravado, than something that will provoke "thought." Sound thinking — or any kind of thinking — has been hibernating too long, like a bear in a hollow log.

By LYTLE HULL

THE ATTITUDES and opinions of the "man in the street" in France and England upon the subject of a Russian invasion of Europe are so varied as to seem almost chaotic to an American. We believe that the world-conquest teachings of the disciples of Marx have become a fanatical creed of the Communists who control Russia.

We believe that nothing can stop their advance westward except the fear of retaliation; that only through military strength can we retaliate. To this end we are sacrificing much of our basic wealth and are preparing to forego many of the comforts to which we have become accustomed. Fundamentally we are considering our own situation in the event Asiatic Communism overruns Europe. But for the moment we are considering the fate of our fellow-races in western Europe—the extinction of which is scarcely to be desired even though we remain secure.

The European strangely enough seems to take a sort of pride in the fact that he is much less worried than we are. He doesn't like to be rude, but one is made to feel he appears to believe we are preparing him militarily in order to protect ourselves from the Russians. He rather glories in his attitude and wonders at our lack of it. He doesn't quite grasp it when we tell him that we are far more concerned about him at the moment than about ourselves, that we can be bombed maybe—but can't have our throats cut.

One Frenchman told us that we were purposely egging the Russians on to military action so that we could overwhelm them. When asked "What with?", he didn't know, but said he had heard this from an unimpeachable source. This is only one of the many weird theories which some Europeans seem to enjoy and which they use as an excuse to themselves when they contemplate the rigors and hardships which full military preparedness entails.

It is a depressing condition and only a bad scare will mend it.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

Of course, you can't see the expression on the little boy's face, but it isn't hard to imagine what it is—and the little girl's smile is certainly one for keeping in your picture book.

It's That Time of Year

WITCHES and goblins are getting ready for the big night... the corn is waiting in the shock and the great orange pumpkins are waiting to come to life with snuggle-toothed smiles on their shining faces.

The small fry are planning costumes, looking forward to bobbing for apples and eating sticky popcorn balls, and whispering about the things they'll do when it comes time for "tricks or treats."

All this adds up to a warning to grown-ups of the family that it is a good time to start thinking about cameras with flash attachments. Pictures of the youngsters all dressed up for Halloween will make a wonderful page in your family snapshot album. It is an occasion on which there will be little trouble in getting their cooperation. All dressed up in costume, they'll be willing and eager to pose for your camera.

It will be fun too to have the camera handy when the doorbell rings. Your youthful visitors will think it a nice addition to the usual treat if you snap a picture of them. Since they are likely to be from your own neighborhood, you'd like to include their pictures in your own collection as well as give prints to their parents. Such pictures are very good in black and white, but with the costumes and all, it's a fine time for using color film. So far I've been talking about still pictures, but the youngsters' antics on Halloween would provide excellent action to be recorded by your movie camera.

The rules for making these pictures are no different from shooting other indoor pictures with flash. However, it might be well to be particularly careful in seeking out plain backgrounds for your shots. The plain wall in the picture above makes the children in their costumes stand out.

To Find Happiness

HOW can we find happiness and peace of mind when confronted by want, inhumanity, sin, disease, and death? Where can we look for joy when there is seemingly nothing to be joyful about? Everyone seeks happiness, but few seem to find it. The material world certainly offers little hope of contentment and security. Yet there are some who are truly happy.

Joy is a quality of God, a quality which is entirely spiritual, neither existing in matter nor dependent on matter. Man is the image and likeness of God, and reflects every quality of God, just as a ray of light reflects the sun. Joy, being spiritual, is infinite and is expressed abundantly by God's idea, man.

The picture of man as material, as sickly, sinning, and dying, is false imagery and is not the true idea of man. It is only as we see and understand that the real man is the image of God, and is therefore free spiritual, immortal, and perfect, that we can find happiness. Looking away from the material, unreal testimony of the material senses, and discerning instead the real man, the creation of Spirit, we gain a sense of peace and security, a consciousness of well-being.

On page 57 of "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" Mary Baker Eddy writes: "Happiness is spiritual, born of Truth and Love. It is unselfish; therefore it cannot exist alone, but requires all mankind to share it."

The choice remains with us whether to be happy or not. Christ Jesus said (John 16:22): "Your joy no man taketh from you." As our thinking becomes spiritualized we find that we are truly happy, but if thought is held to a material level we shall fail of happiness.

No matter what the material conditions are which seem to deprive us of joy and peace of mind, no matter how persistent sin and sickness seem, they cannot destroy the harmony and perfection that are man's as the reflection and idea of God. Man is always joyous because he is the child of God — because he is perfect and includes no imperfection. We can rejoice in the understanding that God, good, is All, hence evil is unreal.

True joy wells up within us when we begin to comprehend that we exist in God and are inseparable from Him, when we acknowledge the ever-present and all-powerful of God. The Psalmist strikes the keynote of true happiness when he says (Psalm 100:3-5): "Know ye that the Lord he is God: it is he that hath made us, and not we ourselves; we are his people, and the sheep of his pasture. Enter into his gates with thanksgiving, and into his courts with praise: be thankful unto him, and bless his name. For the Lord is good, his mercy is everlasting, and his truth endureth to all generations." — The Christian Science Monitor.

SELL OLD SCRAP NOW

Cash in on the old scrap iron and steel that is collecting rust and is in the way of progress.

In order to avoid a slow-down in steel production it is necessary to put all available scrap into production.

Steel is made from approximately 1/3 scrap and 2/3 pig iron. Scrap is used to make new steel because it adds to the quality of steel and helps keep production costs down. Also the refining process of scrap is much shorter than that of iron ore because it has already been refined once.

The price of scrap at the present time will make possible gathering up old machinery and other material at a profit.

Under normal conditions steel companies keep a six-day supply of scrap on hand but today many of these companies are operating on a day to day basis. Winter will soon be here and the scrap supply will slow down still more. To keep up steadily needed steel production, get your scrap into trade channels before winter sets in.

God's Will Is Best.

THE STORY is told of an old hermit who wanted to have an olive tree near his hut. He planted a sapling, and soon he began asking God for rain. His prayers were answered. God responded also when the hermit prayed for warm sunshine to help his tree grow. But in the end the tree died.

With this experience in mind, the hermit was naturally curious when he visited a fellow solitary and found a thriving olive tree by his cell. He told his friend how he, too, had tried to grow a tree. He related how, when he thought the tree needed rain or sun, he prayed to God and was answered.

"God," he said, "granted what I thought was good for my tree, and yet it withered away."

His brother monk, turning his gaze toward the goodly plant in his tiny garden, replied: "And I, friend, simply left the tree in God's hands, because He knew better than I what it needed."

No one has to be told which of the two monks was the wiser and saintlier: the hermit who tried, as it were, to place God at his beck and call, or the one who was content to let God work according to His own plans and desires.

The real lesson of this story is that complete conformity to God's will is not only the proper attitude, but the one that alone leads to ultimate happiness and success. With God all things work unto good.

"I REMEMBER" BY THE OLD TIMERS

From Mrs. Bonnie B. Thompson, Ottawa, Kans.: I remember when on winter evenings father would go to the orchard where apples were buried—first covered with straw, then with earth, making a huge mound—and bring apples back. These were the best apples I ever ate. These, added to popcorn or popcorn balls in a family of five children, made for a very merry evening.

From R. D. Bonar, Chubbuck, Ind.: I remember when I was a small boy we lived near the Arkansas river and often we would go and sit on the river bank and watch the boat houses go by. These houses were built on a raft of logs, when they reached a point where they planned to debark, the houses were torn down and taken out into the country to a ranch and rebuilt. It was a cheap and safe transportation.

From Emilie Hrabec, Chicago: I remember the days when we had to wear long underwear—and, oh, what a job it was to get it smooth around the ankles under the cotton stockings we wore. And we were as happy as colts let out to pasture in the spring when we could take off the cumbersome things and run barelegged and barefooted all summer.

From Nile Ciole, Chicago: I remember how proud I was to be the first youngster in my village to finish my Saturday bath. I would sit all slicked up cut on the front porch and wait for some of my friends to finish their baths and come out on the porch too. I am 97 years old and a lot of water has gone under the bridge since then.

REPORT EXCELLENT CROPS AN HARVEST SEASON ENDS

Northern Maine's 1951 potato harvest is virtually complete with only one area, that around Patten, expecting to continue digging until Thursday, depending upon weather conditions.

A limited acreage of potatoes is still to be harvested in central Maine.

In the orchards, only gold and Red Delicious and Northern Spy apples remain to be picked, the Maine Department of Agriculture stated Wednesday.

The harvest of pumpkin and squash was reported 75 per cent complete in and around New Sharon but only 20 per cent complete in the southern Penobscot area, where excellent yields under perfect conditions were reported for both vegetables.

At Portland some cabbage, cauliflower and beets are yet to be harvested but a big crop of squash has been picked.

Fryeburg reported pumpkin completely harvested in good condition. The Maine Department of Agriculture said Wednesday its final weekly crop condition report of the season would be issued on October 23.

Would you flash-shoot and kill a man, or wait for a sure shot at a buck?

THE WORLD'S MOST WIDELY USED DEVOTIONAL GUIDE

Thursday, October 18
"... he who sows sparingly will also reap sparingly, and he who sows bountifully will also reap bountifully." (II Corinthians 9:6 R.S.V.) Read II Corinthians 9:6-15.

TO visit very scattered congregations of poor people, Bishop Henry Damerell Aves, of Mexico, used to travel long distances by railroad or on horseback. During military and political strife, about 1911-13, traveling was especially difficult.

During the disturbances Bishop Aves was called urgently from Mexico City to Nopala, Hidalgo. As there was no passenger train available, he had to take a freight train and ride on the top of one of the cars. It was a cold night and he had to sit there with much discomfort for more than five hours. When he arrived at Nopala, he was almost frozen and could not stand up. People had to let him down from the train with ropes.

This is one of the many details in the lives of good missionaries. Thanks to our heavenly Father, we have had such good consecrated Christian ministers sent to us. The best preaching is acting the gospel in our own lives.

Prayer

O God, fill the hearts of Thy ministers with the Holy Spirit. Strengthen them in their works, especially in the lands of war. Send more laborers into Thy harvest. In Jesus' name and for His sake we ask It. Amen.

Thought for the Day

Acting the gospel is the best preaching.

THE STARS

By LYN CONNELLY

IT TAKES the scripping efforts of seven full-time writers to keep these laughs coming Milton Berle's way," says a press release.

M. BERLE

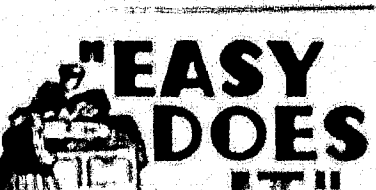

"I'll kill you a million times!" It causes one to speculate as to why seven writers are needed and how they justify their salaries.

Although they have not been too successful with radio thus far, Milton and Lewis are said to be considering another plunge into the medium, via ABC. . . . Edie Fiske, who has just been signed to a five-year radio and TV contract by NBC and who made a very successful debut recently, may be teamed by that network with Cass Daley on TV guest shots, along the lines of the Jimmy Durante-Helen Traubel success. . . . The latter experiment was good fun, but combining opera and comedy all the time can be overdone and more detrimental than good to opera.

OFF-THE-CUFF CHATTER

That adventure series, "Space Cadet," will shortly be featured as a comic strip in some of the newspapers across the country. . . . "The Hickersons" may invade TV again with Lew Parker and Claire Trevor in the roles made famous by Don Ameche and Frances Langford. . . . Lew and Frances went on TV in this show last season but it died a quiet death and no one could figure out why. . . . The reason was the absence of Don who was the perfect John Hickerson. . . . Now they want to eliminate the perfect Blanche in replacing Frances with Claire Trevor. . . . will one ever understand the reasoning behind moves by these big-time radio, movie and television producers?

Meredith Willson, vacationing and working in England, called home that he could hardly wait to return to America.

BEFORE STORING spinach, discard all defective leaves and wash the spinach to remove soil. Drain the spinach and chop it in small pieces. It is a good idea to use a covered container.

Spinach and carrots should not be stored in the refrigerator until washed and then drained. Carrots should be cut into sticks more easily after chilling.

A stalk of celery keeps longer if it is not quartered or broken apart until just before serving. It should be trimmed and washed before storing.

Tomatoes, green peppers and cucumbers should be washed and wiped dry before storing. Those which are used only partially should be wrapped in waxed paper to keep best.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK

Apple Crisp (Serves 4)

- 4 medium apples
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- 1/2 cup flour
- 1/2 cup oats, uncooked
- 1/2 cup brown sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1/2 cup melted butter

Wash and core the apples. Place in a greased 8x8 inch pan. Sprinkle with lemon juice. Mix the flour, oats, sugar, salt and cinnamon. Add melted butter and mix. Sprinkle this mixture on top of apples. Bake in a moderate oven (350° F.) for 45 minutes. Serve warm.

If you cannot use all of a recipe, you may store the remainder in a covered container in the refrigerator for up to 24 hours.

The best time to store food is in the refrigerator. It is a good idea to use a covered container.

Vegetable Beef Pie

Truly a meal-in-a-dish is this hearty beef stew topped with a golden biscuit crust that invites you to cut on the dotted line.

Beef stew is always a specialty in restaurants that cater to men. Why not make it a specialty at home, adding a cover of flaky biscuit? Biscuit topping dresses up beef stew and also makes it more economical. Roll the biscuit dough out to fit the size of your casserole. Then, with lines of a fork, press squares, or other design, into biscuit dough before baking. The result is a professional look for your casserole dish at no extra cost!

Four people can eat heartily of Vegetable Beef Pie for as little as 30 cents a serving. It's a wonderful way to get essential food values, since enriched biscuit has protein, B-vitamins and food iron to add to those of meat.

Accompany Vegetable Beef Pie with a tossed green salad garnished with tomato wedges, and cold milk, and the main part of your meal is complete. For dessert, plan on fresh pears and Camembert cheese.

VEGETABLE BEEF PIE

- 1 1/2 pounds fat beef stew
- 1 pound beef stew (cut in 1/2 inch cubes)
- 1 cup water
- 1 cup dried beans (1 medium)
- 1/2 cup chopped onion
- 1/2 cup carrots (cut in 1/2 inch cubes)
- 1/2 cup peas
- 1/2 cup shortening
- 1/2 cup milk

Melt fat or suet in stewing kettle. Brown beef well. Add water, cover and simmer 1 hour. Add carrots, cover and simmer 1/2 hour longer. Mix together flour, salt and pepper and make into paste with a little of the vegetable liquid and water. Stir into kettle. Add remaining liquid and Worcestershire sauce and cook until thickened, stirring constantly.

Add peas. Pour into ungreased baking dish, 8 x 8 x 2 inches. Roll out Rich Biscuit Topping into 8-inch square, 1/2 inch thick. With finger, press 2 parallel lines in dough in each direction, making 16 small squares. Prick along dividing lines with fork. Place on top of meat mixture. Bake in moderately hot oven (400° F.) 30 minutes.

Rich Biscuit Topping

- 1 cup sifted enriched flour
- 1/2 teaspoon baking powder
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 cup shortening
- 1/2 cup milk

Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Cut or rub in shortening until mixture is crumbly. Add milk to make a soft dough.

Turn out on lightly floured board or pastry cloth and knead gently 30 seconds. Makes 4 servings.

ARCHERY SEASON NEXT TO FLOP IN RANGLEY REGION

As a vacation-dollar attraction, Maine's first bow and arrow deer hunting season has proved a flop at least in the Rangley Lakes Region. The new season, applying only to Franklin and Somerset counties, drew only three archers.

At this point of Maine one of these, Manuel dos Passos, of Mendham, New Jersey, killed a 150 pound buck at 25 yards to register Rangley's top kill.

Paul J. Mertrude, of Lowell, Mass., accompanied by guide Otto Walter, shot at one and missed. "It was my own fault," he said. "I never saw so many deer in one day in my life—but hitting them was something else again."

Hunting camp operators and guides were disappointed in the outcome of the novel hunting season. It was thought that the new attraction might fill a gap between the falling season and the regular deer and arrow season closed Oct. 15.

Reasons for the lack of interest were difficult to pin down. The non-resident bow and arrow license fee is only $4.95 as compared to the regular $24.95 firearms fee. Guides report deer are still "summer-fat" and easy to stalk.

"Cocktail?"

(He: "She'll think I'm a sad sack if I say no!")

(She: "I don't want it, but what will be think?")

Do you have to drink, when you're out on a date or a party?

You might think so, to read some advertisements or listen to some radio shows.

Millions of dollars in liquor propaganda are saturating the public with the idea that drinking is socially indispensable.

Smartly dressed men and women, in lavish surroundings, eagerly consume the advertiser's product. Handsome athletes, beautiful girls, even grandmothers try hard to push the public into believing that everyone drinks. Text and commercials imply that alcohol is safe as milk.

But what are the facts?

Actually, liquor is far from the beneficent product that its manufacturers would have you believe. Most people, including those who drink, know that alcohol often causes irreparable harm. It is a depressant, not a stimulant. One out of twenty drinkers becomes an alcoholic.

Why not determine your attitude toward drinking from your viewpoint—not from the viewpoint of those who profit by what you drink? It is a fact that alcohol cannot help you attain health, happiness, or financial security. It is a fact that alcohol can easily cause you to miss out on these. Why be misled by propaganda to the contrary?

For the fact is, again, that drinking is not essential socially, or otherwise. You can get along fine without it. And you need never hesitate to say, "No, thanks, I don't drink." You'll be thought the better of, and feel better, for saying so.

You can get along fine without it!

Australia Repays New Guinea, Papua Natives for War Help

MANY AMERICAN SERVICES- MEN of the Pacific war will remember the help given them by the natives of New Guinea. Crashed fliers, stranded sailors and soldiers separated from their outfits were cared for and led to safety by the natives.

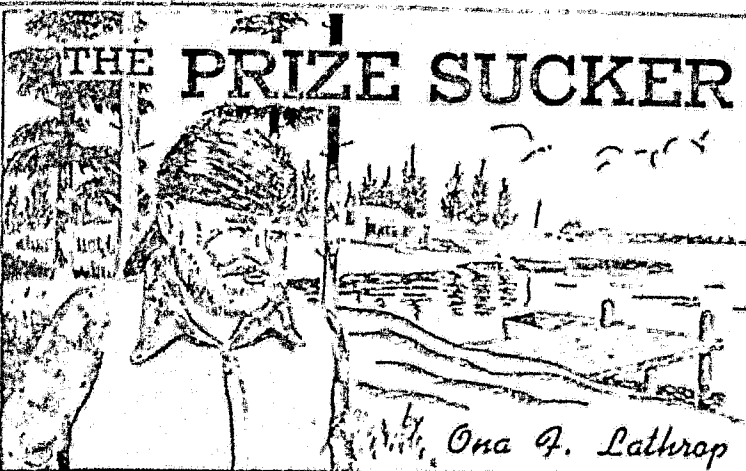

Now the Australian government, which administers the Territory of New Guinea under U.N. trusteeship and the Territory of Papua, is repaying the debt. It is teaching the natives advanced methods of agriculture, introducing them to the benefits of local government and preparing them in other ways for a better way of life based on self-support.

One of the busiest of the Australian government's services in New Guinea is its health service. Travelling by sea, air and jungle track about the rugged territory, the small units of the service battle against disease, malnutrition, ignorance, prejudice and black magic in their efforts to help the natives.

Among the doctors in the service are between 30 and 40 former D.P.s, who went to Australia under that country's big migration plan and, thankful for their own escape to a better life, they volunteered to help care for these primitive people.

While mother works in village garden, father in Tupusiel, Papua, feeds son while waiting to see doctor. It has been the custom for women to till the fields while men fish.

BRANT HARRIS swaggered into the town's one lunch room and sat onto a stool. He glanced about defiantly at the loafers taking him in.

"Cop of coffee-black," he ordered sharply.

"Coming up," Nate, the owner, grinned, winking at the others. Right on the new job right and early, I see. How many arrests have you made already, Con stable?"

A sucker went around Brant knew well enough his guy. But at the village board he had gone over too well, but he'd soon show them who was boss.

"None yet, but I'm on my way. This town is going to get a cleaning up and some of the chaps are going to kick in for violations from now on. The speeders and the stop-sign violators and the other law-breakers are going to get it. Take old Pegleg, for instance."

"What's HE done?" they laughed, gathering closer. Pegleg was the town character and as harmless as he was simple.

"Gotta live bait without a license, that's what. The fishermen stop there by the dozen on their way into the lake, and he takes a killing. It's things like that that are keeping the town restless empty, and I aim to fix him, come tomorrow." He gulped his coffee, glared around challengingly and stalked out. He could hear the guffaws as he went on up the street, but he didn't care.

The next morning he made his way up the lake road to Pegleg's shack at the edge of town. A dozen cats scurried away from the door as he strode up on the stoop. Pegleg's old boat was tied at the pier so he must be in, but it was a long time before Brant's hammering brought an answer.

"Yeah? Who's there?" The door opened a crack and another cat or two squeezed through. Pegleg's grizzled beard and shaggy head peered out.

"It's me, Harris," Brant answered. The old guy probably hadn't heard of his new appointment. "Want to do a little fishing today. How's about some bait?"

Pegleg opened the door and grinned. "Wa at now, a customer. And so bright and early in the morning! Too. Looks like I can get up another slab of bacon after all." He came out on the stoop.

The next morning when he started into the J.P.'s office a snore went around Judge Bentley wiped off a grin and handed him a paper.

"Sorry to do this, Constable, but I guess I've got to serve you with this warrant."

"Warrant? What inarnation for?" Brant stared at the paper in his hand and scratched his head as he tried to understand it.

"For selling bait without a license," the judge informed him. "Old Pegleg was in yesterday afternoon and says so. It cut for you five dollars and some sucker for a dollar. He says so."

But Brant didn't listen to the rest of it. He knew it all too well. A fine fat fine and a dollar for a batch of suckers, and here it turned out he was the biggest sucker of all.

THE READER COMMENTS

"The will of the people," says Thomas Jefferson, "is the only legitimate foundation of government, and to protect its free expression should be our first object."

Rarely this means we must thank God for the true idea in government and get up out of apathy and inertia for these are enemies whose sticky hands would hold us down and shake ourselves from their dust. Will you vote for the right man? It is your privilege and duty. Thank goodness that your paper upholds a high standard of freedom!

SCHOOL MAGAZINE REVENUE TO BUY EQUIPMENT

The meeting of the Bethel Parent Teacher Association Tuesday evening was not largely attended. The president, Mrs. June Greig, presided. Reports of several committees were heard. One in regard to landscaping, playground and equipment was mentioned. The Extension Service was mentioned as a possible means of accomplishment. Mr. Chapman reported over $600 taken in for magazine subscriptions. About half of this money remains with the school and will be used for equipment beneficial to all the grades.

The second and fourth grades tied for the attendance banner. After the business meeting Frank Bean of Woodstock gave an interesting talk on Civilian Defense and showed pictures. Refreshments were served by the first grade mothers.

Let's have a better attendance at the P. T. A. meetings!

IN MEMORY OF BETTY ANN

So like a flower of God's realm
Innocent thoughts, no evil schemes,
Treasured by all of us in our dreams,
She sleeps—in the arms of Jesus.

Loved of Nature, yet so young,
Loved in the hearts of everyone
Her sweet voice, the Savior praises sang.

She rests—in the arms of Jesus.
A soul as pure as the whitest sand
And though, heavy of heart, we understand
An Angel was needed in God's own band.

She's there—in the arms of Jesus.
The years go by like a gentle wind
But our memory brightens instead of dim.

If we ever doubt, then look to Him
He is safe—in the arms of Jesus.
